

Types of Roles We've Filled

- Supply Chain Manager Consultant/Backfill
- Capacity Planning Consultant/Backfill
- Master Scheduling Consultant/Backfill

Skillset Required

- Inventory Management Practices
- APICS Certifications
- Manufacturing Processes
- Management Experience
- Strong Technology and Application Expertise
- Operations Planning Disciplines

Pros2Plan Helps Auto Glass Manufacturer

Company Background

Pros2Plan provided staffing/consultant backfill for a Supply Chain Manager position for a glass company based out of Pennsylvania. The company is the leading supplier of auto glass and shop accessories, with more than 100 distribution branches throughout the U.S. and Canada. Offering more than glass, their distribution network provides small order, same-day or overnight auto glass delivery to more than 27,000 customers in North America.

How Pros2Plan Helps

Our client needed to bring in a temporary Supply Chain Manager to be responsible for the procurement, storage and flow of materials through the manufacturing facility to their customers. Short on candidates to hire, they turned to Pros2Plan for assistance.

Our Consultant was able to hit the ground running and handle the following:

- Effectively lead all functions (Receiving, Shipping, Material Planning, Production Planning, Inventory Management Packaging and Manufacturing Support)
- Provided leadership of both upstream and downstream supply chain activities
- Provided leadership for the effective performance and continuous improvement of operations planning functions including:
 - Demand Management
 - Capacity Utilization Forecasting and Management
 - Planning and Scheduling
 - Raw material forecasting, procurement, receiving and inventory control
 - Finished good production and inventory control
 - Effective packaging design and inventory management
 - Efficient material handling within the plant and warehouse
 - Cost effective finished goods logistics
- Developed and tracked appropriate measure of supply chain effectiveness

Pros2Plan provided consulting/backfill of the Supply Chain Manager for the duration of a little over a year.

We have assisted our clients in hundreds of engagements over the years.

Whether you need an extra set of hands for project management, implementation, upgrade, business process, architecture design, or just a gap in a project, Pros2Plan can assist with providing consultants to ensure your success. With over 20 years of supply chain expertise across all verticals, we can provide the right resource with the right skills set at the right time. The success stories of our clients and of our consultants are our best reference and we want to become one of your success stories.

